

FILM MAUSOLEUM IS PLANNED BY FOX

It is to Cost a Million and Have an Endowment of That Amount.

A motion picture mausoleum or "Hall of Fame," to cost a million dollars and endowed for a similar amount, for the preservation of historic photographs, is planned by William Fox, the motion picture magnate. He has already commissioned John Frederick Harbeson, a young architect of Philadelphia, who is a member of the faculties of both the Philadelphia Academy of Fine Arts and the University of Pennsylvania, to proceed with the plans.

An immense building will be erected by Mr. Fox and permission will be sought to place it in Central Park. The plan is to place in the mausoleum such films of contemporary scenes, movements of thought and development of human experience as will prove of the greatest historic value to the generations to come.

There will be in the mausoleum immense vaults for storing the films in air tight holders to prevent decomposition. A large projection room will be in the main part and around it will be the vaults, space for a library devoted exclusively to writings on the cinema, and a scenario room which will contain authentic copies of the stories of the films which have been awarded a place of honor.

Corey and Riter will, in the new year, produce a play by Harris Dickson, a writer of Southern life.

Bryant Washburn and Nell Craig are featured in "The Breaker," which is playing today at the Bijou theater. Cheated out of a valuable invention, a man of brilliant qualities loses his grip on life and becomes a derelict. A counterfeiter befriends him to use him as a dupe. The counterfeiter is arrested in a raid and the man finds himself in possession of $20,000 in spurious bills. In dire poverty, he changes a bill to save a half starved girl. Stimulated by his love for her he earns and pays back the counterfeited money. But the net of suspicion is on him. Trapped by the police, the girl proves his innocence in the plot. He renews his battle for success, wins it and the girl he loves. An episode of "The Hazards of Helen" is also shown.

May Buckley will return to stock work.

Nance Olden "In the Bishop's Carriage" affords Miss Pickford one of the best opportunities she has had in her bright career. It is full of little Mary Pickford tricks, that have made her famous. This is the feature attraction at the Grand today. Added attractions will be a chapter of "The Crimson Stain Mystery" and the Paramount Bray cartoons.

On Monday and for the rest of the week, picture service at this popular playhouse will be interrupted due to the playing of "Civilization" and "The Daughter of the Gods," but it will be resumed, however, Monday, January 1.

Percy Burton, New York representative for Sir Herbert Tree, will soon produce, in association with Shuberts, "Gamblers All," which was the hit of London's last season.

A brand new W. S. Hart drama is showing at the Orpheum theater today. In this new Triangle-Kay Bee production, it is said, the exponent of the "wild" West has seldom had a vehicle which offered so many opportunities for the display of his talents. The play tells how the sinister gambler, beset by hard living and hatred for all that is good, is won, by a wisp of a girl, to a life of honor and returned manhood. The play is a never-ending succession of tense situations handled by the star in the typical Hart style. A funny Keystone comedy in two reels featuring an all star cast of Keystone players, is shown also.

Minna Gale Haynes is giving reading in New York.

In "A Daughter of the Gods," William Fox's $1,000,000 picture beautiful, there is much to please the children as well as the grown folks, for in the making its creator considered the little ones, knowing that which pleased the youngsters must also appeal to the parents. In one of the big scenes, the country of the Gnomes, a fairy-like representation of their mythical kingdom is shown with all the faithfulness of detail that marks elsewhere in this famous picture the master hand of Fox. It is an enchanted setting for Annette Kellermann, the "most perfect woman in the world." Amid tropical foliage and under a raging mountain torrent can be seen the little creatures who play so important a part in this last word in filmed story. To create the effect of the mountain stream, Mr. Fox found it necessary to divert a river from its source.

The Shuberts will soon produce a Viennese operetta called "The Beautiful Unknown."

"Civilization," which will appear at the Robinson Grand December 25, 26 and 27, was conceived and produced by Thomas H. Ince, the wizard of the silent drama, and it is conceded to be the most unusual creation of his kind ever presented. As a spectacle, it is gigantic; as an entertainment it is overwhelming and as a financial enterprise, it is a veritable mint. This may be accounted for by reason of the fact that it entails an exposition of the various branches of art and science, thereby offering a liberal education at one sitting. A wonderful musical setting to the imposing theme has been provided by Victor L. Seitzinger.

"The Only Girl" was staged by Fred C. Latham and the dances arranged by Joe C. Smith. "The Only Girl" which is one of the big road successes of the present season is announced for early appearance in this city.

MOUNT CLARE MURMURINGS

Events of the Community Are Set Down by a Telegram Correspondent.

MT. CLARE, Dec. 23.—The Knights of Pythias organized a lodge here last Saturday night with quite a number of charter members to take the initial degree of the order. Judge James W. Robinson, M. D. Toter and Fred Shinn, of Clarksburg, were present and served in an official capacity during the exercises which alternated with the banqueting feature of the program continued until the morning sun reminded them it was time to retire. All say they had a good time with plenty of fun and good things to eat.

A hive of Maccabees and a nest of Owls recently installed here together with the Odd Fellows lodge of several years standing, gives the fraternal organizations a fair representation in the town. The latest from dame rumor is to the effect that a petition will soon be forwarded to the manufacturers of chewing gum to raise the price of the gum so high that the victims of the habit will be compelled to give their jaws a rest while attending church services. When one learns of the enormous amount of the gum that is attempted to be masticated he does not wonder at the demand for old rubber boots and shoes that have been cast aside.

Miss Geraldine Bassel and Miss Geraldine Smith are both recovering from a severe attack of measles.

Bruce Norman has been laid off from work for the last week with a wrenched back, caused by being thrown by a mine car at the Florence mine, where he is employed as coal dumper. He will be able to work in a few days.

Many people of this place have helped to swell the throngs in Clarksburg this week doing Christmas shopping. All report plenty of goods in the show windows at very stiff prices.

Cough Medicine for Children.

Mrs. Hugh Cook, Scottsville, N. Y., says: "About five years ago when we were living in Garbutt, N. Y., I doctor two of my children suffering from colds with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and found it just as represented in every way. It promptly checked their coughing and cured their colds quicker than anything I ever used." Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

WAGE INCREASE.

TOLEDO, O., Dec. 23.—The Willys-Overland Automobile Company has raised the wages of its 21,000 employees under a distribution plan which will provide an aggregate of $1,250,000.

Among the tallest trees in the world is the Australian eucalyptus, which attains a height of nearly 500 feet.

ANOTHER WAGE BOOST.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—The 1,300 employees of the Corn Products Refining Company have had their pay increased seventeen per cent, making a total increase of twenty-seven per cent granted during the present year.

Nicaragua is spending $120,000 in gold on a road that shall connect Bluefields with the rest of the republic.
